ST. MARK'S LUTHERAN

TO BUILD NEW CHAPEL

The congregation of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, in Southwest Washington, has recently bought two lots at ton, has recently bought two lots at Eighth and B Streets southwest, facing the Smithsonian Park, on the rear end of which it is proposed to erect a chapel, the larger church to be built in the future. The chapel, plans for which are in preparation by Architect Appiron P. Clark, jr., will be 40 by 62 feet in dimension, and will be constructed of selected red brick and stone trimmings, with slate roof. The interior is to have a beamed celling, and generally to be finished in chestnut wood. The cost of the chapel, including the ground, will be about $18,000. The church proper will be quite an elaborate structure, but no plans relating to it have yet been made.
